

FRANCESCO CARUSO, MARINE BIOLOGIST AND ECOLOGIST, PhD

Nationality: Italian

Date of birth: 22 August 1985

Francesco Caruso, studied Marine Biology and Ecology at University of Messina, working in collaboration with the CIBRA Center (University of Pavia) on bioacoustics researches. From 2009, he attends a multidisciplinary team at the National Institute of Nuclear Physics (Italy). From 2014, he works in collaboration with the Bioacoustics Lab of the National Research Council (Italy). From 2015, he is Guest Postdoctoral Investigator at the Woods Hole Oceanographic Institution (United States). In 2017, he received a Postdoc Research position from the Chinese Academy of Science at the Institute of Deep-sea Science and Engineering (China).