

Giovanni de Vincenzi holds a Master Degree in Marine Biology at Alma Mater Studiorum in Bologna. He then began a long-standing collaboration with the National Research Institute of Marine Environment (IAMC-CNR), which studies on the effects of noise pollution on marine species specializing in Passive Acoustical Monitoring (PAM) Natural marine and land. He has collaborated with Instituto de Investigaciones Marinas and Costeras (CONICET) in Mar de Plata (Argentina) and with the Department of Geoscience of the University of Oslo (Norway), publishing in international scientific journals. He is co-founder of the "eConscience" association. https://www.researchgate.net/profile/Giovanni_De_Vincenzi